++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
A day of sunny spells and isolated showers.

Today:
After a cloudy start, sunny spells will soon break through, becoming more frequent through the afternoon. There is the risk of isolated showers throughout the day. Feeling cooler than of late. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Tonight:
Any remaining isolated showers dying away by this evening to give widespread dry conditions together with extended clear spells across the West Midlands. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Sunday:
A largely dry but rather cloudy morning with just the occasional sunny interval. Heavy rain then moving in from the west during the afternoon. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Cloudy with persistent rain likely at times on Monday. Becoming drier and brighter on Tuesday and Wednesday with sunny spells and isolated showers, especially during the afternoons.
